BUCKEYE STUDENT RECEIVES BIKE DONATION FROM UNITED STEELWORKERS

New Philadelphia, OH (May 16, 2018) – A Buckeye Career Center junior now has a new form of transportation to get to school. Joey Beaver, a Welding student from New Philadelphia, was gifted a 26-inch mountain bike, along with a bag of accessories, from Next Generation. The organization is made up of United Steelworkers Local 2737 members, which collects, refurbishes, and distributes bicycles to adults and children in need. Buckeye Career Center nurse Ms. Tia McCoury saw an article in a local newspaper about the group and the service they provide. McCoury contacted the group to see if she could obtain a bike for Beaver, who frequently walks from home to school, which takes about an hour. The group responded almost immediately and presented the bike to Beaver Tuesday, May 15, 2018 at Buckeye Career Center. Steelworkers Union members Dusty Kinsey, Cory Ayers and Lillian Miller attended the presentation.
