BUCKEYE CAREER CENTER PRESENTS ZOAR COMMUNITY ASSOCIATION WITH POWER DISTRIBUTION CENTER

New Philadelphia, OH (May 21, 2018) – Buckeye Career Center students are again helping to provide electricity to vendors at the various Zoar Community Association festivals and events throughout the warmer months. On Monday, May 21, 2018 seniors in the Electrical Systems Technology lab, along with instructor Jeremy Burdick, presented Zoar Community Association members David Hayes and Tammi Mackey-Shrum with the power unit. This is the third “Zoar Association Power Station” or ZAPS unit that Buckeye has created for the group in as many years. The units are compact and include modern technology and safety features. The units are used to provide power to vendors who may be under tents or are far from a main source of electricity during festivals.
